†2. The value of securities referred to in Paragraph 1 shall be as follows:—

* The Academic Council at its meeting held on 16th February, 1951, resolved that the following proposal be accepted and that the Regulations relating to University Endowments to be created from donations accepted in future may include a provision to this effect, viz.—

“That in the case of more than one candidate at the University Examinations securing the same number of marks for an award in a subject, the award be given to the candidate whose total number of marks in the whole examination is more than the others.”

“That in view of the cost of good books on all subjects and the difficulty of making good literature available for the main body of the students of this University, who are not ordinarily in a position to pay normal prices charged for the best class of literature, and further in view of the fact that there is a danger that medals will become too numerous, and thereby much of their value and distinction will be lost, this Council recommends that the University should not in future ordinarily accept medals as prizes and awards, but that in their place books as prizes should be presented.” (Vide Minute No. 16 of the Executive Council, dated 12th January, 1946.)

(2) A Committee has been appointed by the Academic Council on 11th September, 1947 (Minute No. 58) to consider the question of (1) prescribing a higher minimum for acceptance of donations for medals, scholarships and Prizes and (2) encouraging donations for books rather than for medals.

(3) "That in future no offers of special medals without a permanent endowment for annual award be accepted by the University" (vide Minute No. 32 (ii) of the Academic Council, dated 21st November, 1944).

IV.—AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES.

The main categories of institutions of higher education in the United States are the University, the College, and the Junior College. The term 'University' is ordinarily applied to an aggregate of institutions offering general under-graduate, post-graduate and specialised professional courses as also research facilities through laboratories, libraries and museums, etc., and the term 'college' is used to designate an under-graduate institution with a four-year general course leading to a Bachelor's degree. The division of a University which offers post-graduate course is generally called the 'Graduate School'.

Application for admission to a standard of American Institution is considered entirely on its merits and degree of an Indian University is no guarantee for admission to an American University, as each institution has its own requirements for admission of foreign students. Generally speaking the application of the candidate is judged both on the grounds of his credentials and on the University's opinion of his ability to do graduate and research work, the value of the field he wishes to enter and the arrangements the institutions can make to help him work advantageously.

V. — MISCELLANEOUS.

CHAPTER XI. COLLEGES.

A. INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE GUIDANCE OF INSPECTORS OF COLLEGES.

1. On the occasion of periodical inspection of a college, the Inspectors should prepare a descriptive report, with reference to the previous inspection report and generally on the lines indicated in paragraph 6, for the consideration of the Academic and Executive Councils.

2. Object of the Inspection.—The Inspectors should satisfy themselves that the colleges continue to comply with the conditions on which the privilege of affiliation was originally granted, and also with the conditions upon which recognition was granted in different subjects from time to time. There should be no attempt at interference with the work of teachers in their own special subjects; but the Inspectors should ascertain, by enquiry on the spot, generally the quantity and quality of the work done and they may suggest any improvement in the working of the college that may seem needed to promote its efficiency.

*3. Procedure to be followed.—Before proceeding to the college, the Inspectors should obtain from the Registrar copies of the previous inspection report and also of the annual returns submitted since the last inspection, together with any remarks made or action taken upon them by the Executive Council.

* The reports of the Examiners in Practical Examinations and the remarks of the Principals of Colleges concerned thereon be, in future, forwarded to the Inspectors of Colleges at the next quinquennial inspection of the Colleges." (Vide Minute No. 21 of the Executive Council dated 27th November, 1941, p. 634 of the Minutes).

Inspectors are advised upon arrival at a College to make a cursory inspection of the buildings and grounds and of the classes (seeing them at work if possible), the library, laboratories, etc., in order that they may form a general impression of conditions. They should then spend some time in studying the records of the college and familiarizing themselves with the details of its constitution and life. In this part of the inspection, they should be able to call for any information that they may require whether from the Principal, the members of the teaching staff, or the office.

As soon as the Inspectors feel that they have sufficiently familiarized themselves with the conditions of the college as revealed in reports, returns, etc., they should proceed to a closer inspection with particular reference to the points detailed in paragraph 6 and especially those which their scrutiny of the documents submitted to them suggests ought to receive particular attention.

An important part of the inspection should be informal conference with the Principal and with members of the staff. At such conferences, a good deal can be disposed of which need not find its way into the report, or need only be briefly touched upon therein. In the case of private colleges, in some cases it may be a good thing to meet members of the Governing Body of the college.

4. Form of the inspection report.—While no stereotyped form of report should be prescribed, Inspectors should remember that it is their duty to bring as clearly as possible before the Executive Council the conditions in the colleges. They should also remember that the reports on a particular college over a course of years should form a continuous and intelligible series from which a just impression of the life and development of the college may be obtained. For this reason it will be well that the report should follow as far as possible lines indicated in paragraph 6.

It will not, of course, be necessary at each inspection to repeat the descriptive matter contained in the University Calendar with reference to the college; but specific reference may be made to this and attention should be drawn to any significant changes or developments which have taken place. Since the personnel both of the Board of Inspection and of the Executive Council is liable to considerable alteration every three years, detailed knowledge of the conditions in individual colleges cannot be assumed. So that each report must be designed to give a reasonably full conspectus of the condition of the college.

Inspectors should preface their report with a brief statement of the procedure adopted and of the time occupied by the inspection.

5. Tables included in annual returns.—

C. TEACHING DEPARTMENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

1. The Department of Political Science.

The establishment of the Teaching Department of Political Science has been made possible by benefactions received in response to an appeal issued by the Vice-Chancellor for donations for an endowment fund for establishment of a Chair in Political Science to perpetuate the memory of that distinguished son of this State the late Dr. E. Raghavendra Rao of Bilaspur. In response to the appeal, a sum of Rs. 2,57,000 was received and it constitutes the Capital Fund of the Department. The Department is, in the main, financed from the interest received on the amount which has been invested in 3 per cent. Government Securities.

The Department was opened in the academic year 1946-47. It is at present housed in the building of the University College of Law, Nagpur. It provides instruction for the M.A. course in Political Science, the M.A. classes in Political Science so far held in the S. B. City College, Nagpur, having been since discontinued. The work of research students for the Ph. D. is also supervised by the Department.

The staff now consists of a whole time University Professor, a part-time Reader and two lecturers, one being selected from the staff of a local College for part-time service and the other appointed as a whole-time Lecturer.

The University Department of Biochemistry, which affords facilities for post-graduate teaching and Research, owes its origin to the munificent donation of rupees one lakh by Shrimant M. G. Chitnavis of Nagpur in the year 1946.

Recurring and non-recurring grants from the Government of India and a recurring grant from the Government of Madhya Pradesh has made it possible not only to extend the life period of the Department beyond three years, but also for its maintenance on a permanent footing and for its gradual development for the cause of Scientific Researches. The recurring grants obtained from the Government of Madhya Pradesh and Government of India during the financial year 1950-51 are Rs. 20,000 and Rs. 9,200 respectively. A non-recurring grant of rupees two lakhs has also been obtained from the Government of India during the last two years for Building and Equipments. The new building for the Department has been formally declared open by Dr. Tarachand, Secretary, Education Department, Government of India, on the 17th April, 1951.

From the academic year 1952-53, the M.Sc. course with Six papers in Biochemistry has been started in the Department. It also provides instruction for the paper on Biochemistry included in the Chemistry course for the M.Sc.

The Staff now consists of one Professor and two Lecturers and there are at present seven Research Fellows in the Department, including one financed by the Indian Council of Medical Research, (value Rs. 250 P.M.), and the other by the Ministry of Education, Government of India (value Rs. 200 P.M.).

4. Department of Public Administration and Local Self-Government.

(Head of the Department: Dr. M. P. Sharma, M.A., D. Litt.)

The University Department of Public Administration and Local Self-Government was founded in the year 1949 at the request of the Government, Madhya Pradesh, to impart instruction in Local Self-Government Administration, with a view to provide a trained personnel for the local bodies of the State for improving the efficiency of their administration.

Originally the department was named as the Department of Studies in Local Self-Government and consisted of a Diploma Class in Local Self-Government of one academic year's duration. Soon, however, it was realised that a single course could not adequately meet the requirements of the training for all grades of local officers and that the study of local self-Government to be comprehensive and fruitful must be made in the general context of Public Administration as a whole.

Accordingly, with the approval of the State Government, provision was made from the year 1950 for starting M.A. classes in Public Administration also in addition to the already existing Diploma class. The M.A. Course provides for instruction in Public Administration with specialization in either (a) Local Self-Government Administration or (b) State and National Administration or (c) Diplomacy and International Administration. The Department also supervises research work for the Ph.D. and D. Litt. degrees. It was now renamed as the Department of Public Administration and Local Self-Government.

The Department is financed in the main from a grant of Rs. 21,000 per annum given by the Government of Madhya Pradesh. In recognition of the usefulness of the instruction given by it, the Government have directed that its products should receive preference, other things being equal, in all the supervisory and administrative appointments of the local bodies of the State. Local employees joining these courses are deputed on full pay and the period of their training is treated as one on duty, under a memo of the Government.

The Department is at present housed in the University College of Law, Nagpur.

The Staff consists of a whole-time University Professor and seven lecturers, three of whom have been selected on a part-time basis from the staff of the Nagpur Corporation, one from that of Improvement Trust, Nagpur, two from the local colleges and the remaining one on whole-time basis.

D. INSTITUTIONS MAINTAINED BY THE UNIVERSITY.

1. University College of Law, Nagpur.

(Principal: Shri Y. S. Tambe, B.A., LL.B.)

To provide facilities for a sound training in law and legal principles and to prepare students for the degree of Bachelor in Law, a University College of Law has been established at Nagpur with effect from the 1st July, 1925. The University Committee (Central Provinces and Berar) of 1914-15 had in its report characterised the law education as then imparted to be a perfunctory business. When the Nagpur University was constituted in August, 1923, its authorities found that the branch of our educational system which stood in need of most urgent reform was that concerned with the teaching of law, no improvement having taken place since the University Committee reported against the arrangement in force at the time of its enquiry. After careful consideration, the Faculty of Law and the Academic and Executive Councils, acting in combination, came unanimously to the conclusion that the best way of meeting the situation was to disaffiliate the Morris College in the Department of Law and to have in place of the law classes attached to it a separate institution under the direct control of the University devoted entirely to the study of law. Accordingly, the present University College of Law was founded. The subjects for the examination were revised so as to give the students a grounding in the fundamental principles of law. The Ordinances were so framed as to give them a good training in these subjects. The number of lectures to be delivered to cover the course was considerably increased.

The staff now consists of a Principal and eight lecturers. They are all practising lawyers of the Nagpur High Court and part-time lecturers, the classes being held in the morning. There is a well-stocked and up-to-date library attached to the College and the students are encouraged to use it as much as possible. Other books dealing with the subjects of examination and likely to be helpful for their study have also been provided for students. One set of LL.M. Text-books of the Nagpur University and one set of LL.M. Text-books of all the Indian Universities are also provided. The Library contains up-to-date Reports on English case-law, viz., English Reports, Revised Reports, the Law Reports, and All England Law Reports. The fees are: Rs. 10 for the first year and Rs. 11 for the second year, with an entrance fee of Rs. 10 and Rs. 5 as University annual fee. Students are also required to pay an Amalgamated Fund fee of Rs. 10 each, to be utilized for sports, college magazine, social gathering and other college activities.

The University College of Law is now housed in its new commodious buildings on the Amravati Road, their construction having been completed in June, 1940. The building for the College includes two spacious halls and four spacious lecture rooms. The University Hostels for Post-graduate students and other students are situated in the same compound and provide accommodation for about 250 students, most of the rooms being single-seated.

The College is under the management of a Governing Body (committee) of eight members, constituted as follows:—

- (i) The Vice-Chancellor, President (ex-officio).
- (ii) Dean of the Faculty of Law (ex-officio).
- (iii) A Judge of the High Court of Judicature at Nagpur nominated by the Chancellor. He shall hold office for three years.

- (vi) } Council from among the members of
- (vii) } the Madhya Pradesh Bar and State

- (ii) Shri Justice M. Hidayatullah, B.A. (Cantab.) Bar-at-Law. (Dean, Faculty of Law).

(Director-in-Charge: Dr. P. S. Mene, M.Sc.
(Hons.), Ph.D. (Lond.), D.I.C., A.R.I.C.
M.I.I.Chem.E.)

The Laxminarayan Institute of Technology owes its origin to the vision and generosity of the late Rao Bahadur D. Laxminarayan of Kamptee, who died in 1930 and bequeathed almost his whole estate worth over Rs. 35 lakhs, to the Nagpur University "for teaching of Applied Science and Chemistry to the Hindu Students domiciled for not less than six years in the Central Provinces and Berar."*

The foundation stone of the Institute was laid on 8th December, 1937, by His Excellency Sir Hyde Clarendon Gowan, K.C.S.I., C.I.E., V.D., I.C.S., the then Governor of the Province during the Vice-Chancellorship of Dr. Sir Hari Singh Gour, Kt., M.A., D.C.L., LL.D., D. Litt. The Institute started functioning in August, 1942, with the first batch of students numbering seven. The Institute

(2) (i) The Principal shall be responsible for the admission of students to the College and may interview students before admission.

(ii) The Principal is authorised to fine students for misbehaviour with the approval of the Vice-Chancellor. (See Minute 42 (c) (i) and (ii) of the Executive Council, dated 5th December, 1935).

The Principal is also the ex-officio Secretary of the Sir Maneckji Dadabhoy Law Library.

* Now known as Madhya Pradesh.

was declared formally open by His Excellency Sir Henry Twynam, K.C.S.I., Governor of C.P. and Berar on 9th January, 1943, during the tenure of office of Dr. T. J. Kedar as Vice-Chancellor.

The Institute is located on Amravati Road, Nagpur. Laboratories and workshops are provided for post graduate instruction in Chemical Technology and Chemical Engineering. A beginning has been made in semi-scale manufacture, a 1½ ton soap plant having been installed for the manufacture of washing and toilet soap. The Institute is developing its own library which at present contains a large number of the recent editions of the standard text and reference books on Chemical Technology and Chemical Engineering. Over 50 journals are received and the back numbers of the more important journals have recently been obtained. Plans have been prepared for the extension of the Institute's activities and work has already begun on the construction of the new buildings which consist of a Workshop 120'x75', a Pilot Plant Building 150'x80', a new Laboratory Block, Chemical Stores, Boiler-House and a Hostel. Orders have been placed for a large quantity of equipment, consisting of scientific apparatus, machine tools, chemical engineering equipment and small scale chemical plants. Some of this equipment has already arrived and the balance is expected before the end of the year. Provision is made in the scheme for further extensions wherein space is reserved for the erection of an auditorium, a library building and additional laboratory blocks.

Admission.

Only those students who have had an adequate training in pure science are admitted, the minimum qualification being a B. Sc. of Nagpur University with Chemistry as one of the subjects at the final examination and Chemistry, Physics and Mathematics as three of the subjects at the intermediate examination (Arts and Science) or the degree of another University recognised as equivalent thereto.

Courses.

Two courses of study have been organised—Chemical Engineering and Oil Technology. Details of these courses are given in the Hand Book of the Institute, obtainable at the Institute office at Re. 1 per copy.

Each course is of 2 years' duration, and leads to the B.Sc. (Tech.) degree. The main function of the Institute is to train candidates to meet the needs of Indian Industries, with particular reference to the industries of Madhya Pradesh and, therefore, the Institute is being developed in this direction. When the plans for the extensions are completed the Institute will possess buildings and equipment suitable for the introduction of a *4 years course for B.Sc. (Tech.) degree after Intermediate stage.

Fees.

The tuition fees are Rs. 150 per annum payable in 10 monthly instalments of Rs. 15 each. Two studentships of Rs. 40 each and tenable for 1 year, one in each group, are awarded to the students standing first in the terminal examinations held during the first year and two studentships of like value are awarded to the second year students on the results of the promotion examinations held at the end of the first year. A limited number of free studentships are allotted to needy students. At present, admission is limited to 12 students in each group annually.

Research.

In addition to the regular courses, a limited number of students are admitted for research on problems of industrial importance. Normally the minimum qualification for admission for this purpose, is a B. Sc. (Tech.) or an M. Sc. in Chemistry. The purpose of this research is twofold, firstly to give the student a training in the methods of research and secondly to solve indigenous industrial problems. In order to encourage research no fees are charged at present.

As a further incentive to the carrying out of research, six scholarships of Rs. 75 and 3 fellowships of Rs. 150 are available annually. Normally, however, these scholarships and fellowships are only awarded after the student has worked for some time and has proved his capacity for work of this nature.

3. University Training College, Nagpur.

[Principal : Shri M. Varma, M.A., M. Ed. (Patna)
B. Ed. (Edin.)]

The University Training College was opened on the 2nd of July, 1945, to meet the growing demands of the increasing number of untrained graduates imparting education to our children in their most formative years and to provide facilities for a sound system of training in the methods and technique of teaching. The institution of the University Training College is in keeping with the teaching functions of the University, and it is hoped that with proper support this college will develop into a nucleus for research in education—a matter of vital importance for the future educational development of India.

The Training College is housed at present in the building of the Law College, Amravati Road, Nagpur. The tuition fee is Rs. 200 per annum. Only graduates of recognised Universities are admitted to the College. Some fifteen to twenty local schools have volunteered to serve as practising schools for the pupil-teachers studying in the college, so that the absence of a model school is not a real handicap; for, as the Sargent Report opines, "teaching practice can best be done in ordinary schools since the atmosphere of model schools attached to training institutions is usually artificial".

In addition to the usual course indicated in the prospectus for the B. T. examination, the college conducts short courses in Infant Education, Mental Hygiene, and School Supervision and Administration. Moreover, every student at his option gets training in a third subject in addition to the two special subjects he has to offer for his examination. Tutorials, seminars, debates, essays, and case studies are regular features of the training. The college also conducts four societies for the benefit of the students: a Psychology Association, a Science Association, a Dramatic and Music Society and a Literary Society.

The college is also conducting a regular M. Ed. Course from the academic year 1951-52 for the benefit of students preparing for the M. Ed. Examination of the University. The classes are held in the afternoon to enable teachers in service to attend them.

With the purpose of maintaining close contact with the local schools the college organises meetings and lectures for pupil-teachers by experienced heads of local Schools and has put in circulation four trophies among local Schools for different competitive events. The College also holds an annual exhibition of the work of its own pupil-teachers and of teachers in the local institutions and also publishes an education quarterly which has a wide circulation in the country.

Instruction in this College is provided through Hindi and Marathi Media at the B. T. and in English at the M. Ed. stage.

The staff consists of a Principal, seven lecturers, and an art master for pedagogical drawing and educational hand-work. The college is equipped with a good library, and Geographical and other educational apparatus. For advanced research a Marchant Calculating Machine has been recently acquired and the College has a very good collection of mental tests. An Epi-diascope is used for illustrating lectures on a screen.

E. INSTITUTIONS ADMITTED TO THE PRIVILEGES OF THE UNIVERSITY.

1. Nagpur Mahavidyalaya, Nagpur.

[Principal: Dr. H. N. Sinha, M.A., Ph.D. (Lond.).]

In March, 1883, Sir John Morris, for nearly fifteen years Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces

retired. There was a general desire among the Indian community, especially of Nagpur, to commemorate his long connection with the province by associating his name with some institution for the promotion of higher collegiate education, for which no facilities existed at the time within the province. This feeling found expression at a public meeting held at Nagpur on the 4th December, 1882, when it was resolved to raise funds to found an aided College at Nagpur to be called "the Morris Memorial College". A scheme to give effect to this resolution was in due course formulated and submitted to Government. The establishment of the proposed college received the sanction of the Government of India as per Home Department letter No. 170, dated the 5th June, 1884, to the address of the Chief Commissioner.

On receipt of this letter, the Local Government invited the subscribers to the Morris Memorial Fund (Nagpur Branch) to take steps to form and put on a legal basis a Committee of Management of the College. At a meeting held on the 16th of February, 1885, the subscribers resolved to constitute themselves into a registered Society under the provisions of Act XXI of 1860 to be called "the Morris Memorial College Society of Nagpur" with a governing body or Council of eight members, to be appointed as follows:—

One by the Bar at Nagpur.

One by the District Council of Nagpur.

One by the Municipal Committee of Nagpur.

Two by the subscribers subscribing Rs. 50 and upwards.

Two by the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces.

The Inspector of Schools, Southern Circle.

The Society was registered on the 20th March, 1885, and the Governing Council immediately on its formation applied to the Calcutta University for affiliation up to the M.A. standard. This was sanctioned by the Governor-General in Council as per Home Department letter No. 142, dated the 2nd January, 1885. The College opened in June, 1885, with a staff consisting of a graduate of a British University as Principal and three Indian graduates, among whom was Dr. Brajendra Nath Seal, for some time Vice-Chancellor of the Mysore University. The College was maintained out of the interest of the money subscribed by the people of the Nagpur and Chhattisgarh Divisions and by grants by the local Government and the Municipality of Nagpur.

On the passing of the Indian Universities Act, 1904, the Central Provinces came under the jurisdiction of the Allahabad University and in 1905, the College became affiliated to it. On the establishment of the Nagpur University in August, 1923, the college severed its connection with the Allahabad University and came under the jurisdiction of the Nagpur University.

With the growth of the College and the expansion of its activities, the funds at the disposal of the Council proved insufficient to maintain it in a state of efficiency. The local Government was moved to help the College and it agreed to do so by placing at the disposal of the Council educational officers recruited under contract with the Secretary of State on behalf of the Government. In accordance with this arrangement, in 1906, a member of the Indian Educational Service (Mr. C. E. W. Jones, of Brasenose College, Oxford, who after a long and meritorious service retired as Director of Public Instruction) was appointed Principal of the College. In the following year, a member of the same service was appointed Professor of English. A third member of the Indian Educational Service was appointed to the staff in 1914. The expenses of these three members of the staff were defrayed by the Local Government. The Government also largely increased its grant-in-aid to raise the pay of the Indian professors. In 1911, it handed over to the College the historic building constructed by the Bhonsla Kings of Nagpur for the Resident at their Court, known as the "Residency", the old building in the City being simultaneously handed over to the Committee of Management of the Neill City High School. The College thus came to be almost wholly financed by the Government and in the circumstances, the Council agreed to its being provincialized with effect from 1st July, 1915, the endowment fund being set free for being utilized for other educational purposes. In 1919 and 1920, two more members of the Indian Educational Service were appointed as Professors of Philosophy and Economics respectively.

The "Residency" has been converted into a college and provides three large and four small lecture rooms with a hall that accommodates less than half the total number of students, besides college office and common room for staff and students. A well-equipped library, containing at present over 14,000 volumes, which is being appreciably added to every year, occupies a separate building in the grounds. Several newspapers and periodicals, Indian and foreign, are provided for the use of the staff and students, and placed in the library for reference. In the College compound are also situated a hostel, opened in 1912, capable of accommodating about 100 students, four hostel messes, the Principal's bungalow, built in 1918, the Hostel Superintendent's bungalow, and tennis courts. In 1918, lecture-room accommodation was increased considerably by the acquisition of the "Old Examiners' building" situated about 250 yards from the main College building and now known as "Morris College Annexe".

In 1935 the college celebrated its Golden Jubilee and to commemorate it, it was decided to build a gymnasium for the college. A committee was formed with Col. K. V. Kukday, an old student of the college as Chairman and Principal A. C. Sen-Gupta as Treasurer. Subscription was collected from past and present students of the college and from the members of the staff. The principal contributors were :—

Mr. Dwarkadas Daga	Rs. 3,000
Mr. Jankidas Mohta	Rs. 2,500

The foundation stone was laid by the late Sir Hyde Gowar and the college to-day has an excellent gymnasium and the building and equipments constitute an excellent gift by the past and present students of the college and members of the staff, to students of the future. The building is known as Daga-Mohta Hall.

In December, 1945, the College celebrated its Diamond Jubilee and in 1947 after the 15th August its name was changed into "Nagpur Mahavidyalaya".

The College affords excellent opportunities for the academic, social and athletic development of students. The various College Societies, viz., Historical Philosophical, Sanskrit, Persian, Economics, Hindi, Geographical, and Post-Graduates' English Association, Sharada Mandal (Marathi), Urdu Literary Society, and the Morris College Union, meet periodically throughout the session and are well attended. The playing fields are situated in Dhantoli a quarter of a mile from the College, and afford opportunities for healthy exercise among the students. Cricket, football, hockey, volley-ball and tennis matches are regularly played.

In order to commemorate the Independence Day i.e., 15th August, 1947, and also to fulfil a long-felt want of a good and commodious Assembly Hall for the college a public fund was raised by the efforts of the staff and a few old Boys of the College. The most prominent among the donors was Raja Bahadur Birendra Bahadur Singh of Khairagarh who gave a sum of Rs. 25,001/- in order to associate the name of his late father Raja Lal Bahadur with the Independence Memorial Hall. Some of the other donors were the Raja Sahab of Nandgaon State who gave Rs. 5,501. Seth Shri Shyamji Kheta, who gave Rs. 2,501, a student of this college Shri T. D. Deshmukh of Parwa who gave Rs. 2,501, another student Shri N. L. Paliwal of Katangi, who gave Rs. 1,000, and Sir M. B. Dadabhoy who gave Rs. 1,000. In all an amount of Rs. 53,000 was collected for the construction of the Hall in the Annexe Compound of the college to be named "Raja Lal Bahadur Khairagarh Independence Hall". This Hall, with the Government grant of an equal amount, has been constructed recently. This hall is calculated to accommodate nearly all our students and thus fulfils a long-felt want and is a fitting memorial to the greatest day in our country's history--the Day of Independence.

Scholarships are given every year to successful candidates in the Intermediate and Degree classes, from Government and private funds. Four scholarships of Rs. 120 each per session are awarded annually to poor and deserving students of the 1st year class. A fellowship is offered periodically to successful M.A. students. These are given from the Morris Memorial Endowment Fund, which was released from its liability to maintain the College, when it was made a Government institution in 1915.

The College teaches up to the M.A., and B.A. (Hons.) standard in English, Sanskrit, Persian, Marathi, Urdu, Economics, Philosophy, History, Geography, Pali and Prakrit and Hindi, and upto the B. A. (Pass) standard in Political Science, French, and Arabic.

The tuition fee is Rs. 117 for undergraduate classes and Rs. 126 for Postgraduate and Honours classes.

[Principal: Dr. D. G. Moses, M.A., Ph.D. (Columbia).]

The College aims at providing a sound, general education and at building character on Christian principles. It originated in the work of the Rev. Stephen Hislop, the first Missionary of the Free Church of Scotland to Nagpur. He came to India in 1845 and was drowned in the Bori River in 1863. He was an eminent geologist and the results of his researches into the geological history of the Central Provinces are contained in a paper written by him which is still available. The fossils collected by him have been preserved in the Nagpur Museum and in the Royal Geological Society, London. Besides other forms of Missionary work he started a School situated on the Jumma Talao. In 1865 the Free Church Institution was erected on the same site. It was not till 1884 that the Institution was raised to the status of a College and affiliated to Calcutta University. In 1885 it sent up its first contingent of students, three in number, for the B.A. Examination.

From 1905 till 1923 the College was affiliated to Allahabad University; and when the Nagpur University was established in 1923 the College came under its jurisdiction. It teaches upto the M.A. and B.A. (Honours) standard in English, Economics, Philosophy, Marathi and Hindi; upto the B.A. standard in History, Political Science, Pure Mathematics, Economics, Philosophy, English Literature, Marathi, Hindi and Sanskrit; upto the B.Sc. standard in English, Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics, Botany and Zoology and upto the Intermediate standard in Economics, Logic, Civics, History, Marathi, Hindi and Sanskrit.

The College has a good Library of some 12,000 books and students are encouraged to use it by the 'Open Access' system. The College fees are Rs. 117 per annum.

In 1890 when the foundations of the old building were pronounced insecure, the College was moved to its present site. Two double-storeyed blocks were erected and later joined to form a quadrangle. The annexe, a double-storeyed building of five rooms has since been erected in a corner of the 'spacious compound.

The College also has a large compound in the Civil Lines. In it are situated the Principal's Bungalow and a Hostel with accommodation for seventy-five students. Here too are the extensive College playing fields.

Women students are admitted to the College and residential accommodation is available for about twenty women students in a Hostel on Victoria Road.

3. The College of Science, Nagpur.

[Principal: Dr. K. Krishnamurti, D. Sc.
(Lond.)]

When the Empress Victoria died in January, 1901, a desire sprang up all over the country to raise memorials of her long reign. In Nagpur, it was decided at a public meeting held on the 6th of March, 1901, that the subscriptions to be raised should be devoted partly to a personal memorial and partly to the founding of an institution of public utility. To formulate a scheme which was to give effect to the second branch of the memorial, a Society was formed under the name "The Central Provinces Victoria Technical Institute" which was registered under Act XXI of 1860. The governing body of this Society, acting in collaboration with the Morris Memorial College Council and the Senatus of the Elphinstone College, decided that a building should be constructed for the location of the Institute which should include accommodation for the teaching of Chemistry and Physics and the allied Sciences to the B.Sc. students of the two colleges. To this end, the Governing Body of the Institute paid Rs. 75,000 from its funds to the Local Government. This was half the cost of a combined building for a Scientific Library, the Agricultural College, and lecture rooms and laboratories for imparting instruction in Chemistry and Physics, both theoretical and practical, to the students of the two colleges. The building was opened on the 6th October, 1906. Public opinion, however, began to demand increased facilities for education in Science and in 1908, the classes held in the Institute Building were raised to the status of a separate college known as the Victoria College of Science, which was affiliated up to the D.Sc. standard of the Allahabad University in 1909.

The connection of the College with the University of Allahabad ceased on the coming into force of Nagpur University Act, on the 4th of August, 1923, and it is now a College admitted to the privileges of Nagpur University.

The rooms placed at the disposal of the College in the Victoria Technical Institute were badly designed for a scientific institution, and when the demand for more accommodation rose precipitously between 1922 and 1926 it was decided to erect new buildings on a site near the Convocation Hall of the University. The foundation stone of the new building was laid by His Excellency the Viceroy, Lord Irwin, on the 24th July, 1926. The new College was formally opened by His Excellency Sir Montagu Butler, Governor of the Central Provinces and Berar, on July 15th, 1929.

The College is now housed in a handsome and commodious building of its own, and the triangular connection with the Morris and Hislop College has been severed. It is maintained and equipped by the State Government. Accommodation is provided in the lecture theatres and laboratories for a large number of students. The present number on the rolls of the College is nearly 900 students. A hostel has been built in the same compound with one of the members of the College Staff as Superintendent. This provides accommodation for about 100 students. The tuition fees for all classes are Rs. 144 per annum for an undergraduate, and Rs. 162 per annum for an M. Sc. or B. Sc. (Hons.) student, except Mathematics students who are charged only Rs. 126 per annum. The sons and daughters of agriculturists are given concession rates. The Hostel fees are Rs. 4 per mensem for a single-seated room and Rs. 2-4-0 per mensem for a three-seated room.

A playing field and gymnasium are provided for the use of the students.

Instruction is provided in Physics and Chemistry upto the D.Sc. standard; in Mathematics, Botany and Zoology up to the M.Sc. standard; and in English up to the B.Sc., standard.

4. Vidarbha Mahavidyalaya, Amravati.

[Principal: Dr. R. L. Nirula, B.Sc., (Hon.),
(Lond.), D.L.C.]

The Vidarbha Mahavidyalaya, formerly King Edward College, owes its origin to the desire of public-spirited citizens of Berar to perpetuate the memory of His Majesty King Edward VII. The College is a Government institution. The foundation stone was laid early in 1919 by the Chief Commissioner, Sir Benjamin Robertson, K.C.S.I., K.C.M.G., and the College was formally opened by His Excellency Sir Frank Sly, K.C.S.I., Governor of the Central Provinces, on the 27th July, 1923.

The College is conveniently situated to the north-west of Amravati, on a large open tract of ground about two miles from the city and about the same distance from Amravati Camp. With the increase in the number of students from about 300 to 750 and the introduction of multimedia instruction, the classroom accommodation, inspite of the recent expansion of the Physics, Chemistry and Biology laboratories, is not yet quite commensurate with the present requirements. Hostel accommodation has been provided for 200 students and it is intended to increase the same for at least 300. The College possesses its own water supply and conservancy arrangements, hospital, dispensary and spacious playing fields and grounds, with bungalows and quarters for the Principal and some of the professorial, medical, electric, clerical and menial staffs. Its buildings and internal arrangements bear comparison with those of any College in India.

The College is admitted to the privileges of the Nagpur University in all subjects except Arabic upto the B.A. standard in Arts and in Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics, Botany and Zoology in Science upto the B.Sc. standard. Geography was also added as an optional subject in the year 1947 but its teaching has been suspended for some time. Postgraduate teaching in Marathi started in 1947 still continues.

The College is richly endowed with scholarships from the King Edward Memorial Fund (Berar) and from funds provided by two well-known citizens of Amravati, the late Rai Bahadur Ganeshdas Kundanmal and the late Ramkrishna Govind Mote.

The rules governing the award of the King Edward Memorial Scholarships provide for twelve scholarships and six stipends for Berar students at Vidarbha Mahavidyalaya, two fellowships for post-graduate Berar students and one post-graduate scholarship for Berar students for study outside India.

Under the Seth Thakurdas Scholarship Fund, provision is made for four scholarships of Rs. 20 per mensem for students at Vidarbha Mahavidyalaya. These scholarships are reserved for Marwari students. They are tenable in the first instance for two years, but are renewable at the discretion of the administrators of the fund.

The Ramkrishna Govind Mote endowment consists of Rs. 4,000 which were handed over to Nagpur University to found a scholarship "of such amount and payable in such manner as may from time to time be determined by the Academic Council" of the University. "The scholarship is to be awarded every alternate year to a Berar student who appears at the Intermediate examination in Science of the Nagpur University from the Vidarbha Mahavidyalaya, Amravati, or, when there is no Science course taught in that College, from any College in the Central Provinces, and who stands first among the successful Berar students from the College." The Scholarship is to be tenable for two years in a college affiliated to Nagpur University.

After the attainment of national independence on the 15th August, 1947, the name of the College was changed to Vidarbha Mahavidyalaya, by the order of the Provincial Government.

5. The College of Agriculture, Nagpur.

[Principal : Dr. R. P. Asthana, M.Sc., Ph.D., (Lond.)

+ D.I.C. (Lond.) F.A.Sc., F.B.S.].

The first step towards the provision of Agricultural education in these provinces took place in 1888 with the formation of an agricultural class, giving a two-years' course of education at the Government farm, Nagpur.

This class represents the foundation of the present College. With the general impetus given to scientific agriculture in 1903-04 and the formation of the Departments of agriculture, as we now find them in India, the need for a higher standard of agricultural education in the country was evident.

With the completion of the Victoria Technical Institute in 1906, the old agricultural class passed away and was replaced by the Agricultural College, occupying the north-wing of the above and providing a three-year course of training. In the early stages, 1906-14, both the class-rooms and the laboratories were in the Institute; but it was obvious at an early stage that the building was unsuited to the latter.

In the course of the next few years, a separate Agricultural Research Institute which included the students' laboratories, was erected on an area adjoining the Victoria Technical Institute. This was opened for use in 1915.

The course given at the College at its inception in 1906 was a three-year one, founded on the outlines framed by the Board of Agriculture for the various Indian colleges then opening. The entrance standard was University Matriculation or the College Entrance Examination. The College conferred a Diploma in Agriculture on successful students. Experience showed the course to be technically defective in some respects and to be too short for the full absorption of a wide syllabus by men of only a matriculation pass standard. In 1916, the course was changed to one of practically four years' length with a marked efficiency bar at the end of the second year, when its Part I, Final or Certificate examination took place, requiring a first division pass for promotion to the Second or Diploma part of the course. Defects in working and the probability of later affiliation with a University led in 1920 to the division of this course into two:—

(1) A certificate course of two years' duration with a College Entrance Examination as qualification for admission. (2) The Diploma course of virtually four years with Matriculation as entrance qualification.

The Diploma classes of the College were admitted to the privileges of the University on the 29th July, 1925, by a resolution of the Executive Council in that behalf, which received the sanction of the Local Government. The University held two examinations: the first, an Intermediate Examination in Agriculture, at the end of two years and the second, an examination for the degree of Bachelor in Agriculture at the end of further two years. From 1938 these examinations are termed respectively as Intermediate in Science (Agriculture) and Bachelor of Science (Agriculture). The first Intermediate examination was held in March, 1927 and the first degree examination in March, 1929. With effect from February, 1935, provision has been made for post-graduate research degree of Master of Science in Agriculture and from 1941, for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in the Faculty of Agriculture.

The College is situated in the Maharaj Bagh, within close range of the Government farm, the Veterinary Hospital and the Agricultural Research Institute. The hostel, erected in 1906 and enlarged subsequently, is situated some 50 yards west of the Institute and is capable of holding about 170 students. The College is strictly residential and even those who have their homes in Nagpur must reside in the hostel. For the present this rule is relaxed on account of the increased strength of the College. The College is provided with playing fields, a gymnasium, and tennis courts.

The College is open to accept as candidates for admission to the Degree course bona fide residents of the Madhya Pradesh or students deputed by the Government of any State.

A certain number of Government scholarships and free places may, at the discretion of the State Government, be provided for students who are residents of Madhya Pradesh.

Two stipends of Rs. 10 per mensem have been provided from the Frazer Scholarship Trust Fund for the benefit of students of the cultivating caste from the Makrai State or from the Hoshangabad district. Of these, one is tenable in the junior or Intermediate stage, and the other in the senior or B.Sc. (Agr.) Degree stage.

All scholarships are allotted some time after the commencement of the session.

All Government scholarships are provided on the understanding that the holders, on completion of their course, will agree to accept employment in the Madhya Pradesh Department of Agriculture, if required by the Department. .

The College has five funded medals or prizes, in addition to those awarded annually by Government and the University.

(1) The Kalidas Chowdhary Medal awarded in Practical Agriculture.

(2) The Smythies Medal awarded in Agricultural Chemistry.

(3) The Kedarnath Rai Silver Medal awarded in Agricultural Engineering.

(4) The Napier Practical Agriculture Prize offered for the best thesis submitted for the Degree of Bachelor of Agriculture.

(5) The Coronation Commemoration Prize awarded to the most outstanding student of the year in respect of studies, games, and social activities.

6. Shri Binzani City College, Nagpur.

[Principal : Shri S. L. Pandharipande, M.A.,]

1. The necessity of a third Arts College in Nagpur increased every year during the decade preceding the establishment of this College. There was a gradual advance in the secondary education of the Province, High Schools multiplied and this led to a considerable increase in the number of students appearing at and passing the High School Certificate or an equivalent examination. But the number of Colleges in the city as well as in the Province, and also the accommodation provided therein, remained static. Consequently, a large number of students had to migrate to other Provinces which involved a large expense on the part of their parents and guardians. Moreover, unlike other parts of India, this Province was lacking in a private College, under indigenous management. In these circumstances, the Cultural Education Society, Nagpur, saw a unique opportunity of public service, and in the absence of any rich man or institution coming forward to fulfil this general want, the Society decided to assume responsibility for the work. The College was thus started on the 17th July, 1930, and Mr. J. M. Kayande became the first patron having donated Rs. 1,001 to the College, other members of the Society working as professors. The College was first named Nagpur College, and met in the building of the Kayande High School on the bank of the Shukrawari Tank, near the Tilak Statue. Subsequently, a Governing Body of the College was formed with Dr. Bhawani Shankar Niyogi, as the Chairman.

2. The total strength of the College during the first session was 14 (3 in the senior B.A. class; 3 in the senior Intermediate class; and 8 in the Junior Intermediate class). The expenditure incurred during this session was, however, too heavy for the Society to bear. So, with a view to better stability and prestige of the College, the Society requested the Neill City High School Committee to co-operate with it in running the College and the latter very nobly consented. The College was then shifted to the building of the Neill City High School and met both in the morning and evening.

3. The University admitted the College to its privileges provisionally for 5 years with effect from 1st July, 1932. The name of the College, namely, Nagpur College, being the same as that of the University, was considered against academic traditions, and was, therefore, changed to "City College". In compliance with one of the conditions laid down by the University, a mixed meeting of the Neill City High School Committee and some members of the Cultural Education Society constituted itself, on 24th February, 1932, into an Association by name the Nagpur Shikshan Mandal, which was to manage the College as well as the Neill City High School, and was registered under Act XXI of 1860 in April, 1932. In accordance with the provisions of the College Code Ordinance, which came into force from 1st September, 1940, the Nagpur Shikshan Mandal became the Foundation Society of the College and a Governing Body as prescribed by the College Code was constituted.

4. In November, 1946, Seth Aidanji Binzani, Proprietor, Karmavir Book Depot, Mahal, Nagpur, gave a princely donation of Rs. 51,111 (Rupees fifty-one thousand one hundred and eleven) to the College. In appreciation of this magnificent gift the Foundation Society named the college after him as Shri Binzani City College, Nagpur.

5. The Governing Body of the College consists of the following members—

Chairman of the Foundation Society—

1. Justice Shri K. T. Mangalmurti (Ex-Officio Chairman).

16. Prof. P. K. Sawalapurkar, Kavyateerth.

Principal of the College—

17. Shri S. L. Pandharipande, M.A. (Ex-Officio Secretary).

6. In 1932, the College met in the building of the Neill City High School Hostel. The maximum number of admissions, viz., 125, then permitted by the University, was soon raised to 200. In view of the additional accommodation provided in the building the number was further raised to 450.

7. The College Library has about 12,000 books on various subjects, arranged and classified according to the Dewey Decimal System. The College is specially indebted to the late Prof. Bhate, and the Aryottejak Samaj, whose libraries, containing about 700 books each, have been presented to the College.

8. The College has spent about Rs. 7,500 so far for the preparation of playgrounds for Cricket, Football, Hockey, Volley-ball and some Indian games on its own plot of land 23 acres in area, secured from the Improvement Trust, Nagpur. Students are encouraged to take part in games and are offered all facilities. The College has also made adequate arrangements for the Physical Training and Medical Examination of students.

9. The College now meets from 7 A.M. to 9-30 A.M. and 10 A.M. to 3-50 P.M. The College is recognised for instruction in Marathi and Hindi up to the M.A. standard; in English, Sanskrit, Economics, Political Science, History, Hindi, Mathematics, and Philosophy up to the B.A. Pass standard and in Civics, Logic and Marathi, Hindi and Urdu Compositions up to the Intermediate (Arts) standard.

10. The College charges Rs. 117 as tuition fee for a session; Rs. 6, 8, and 10 as admission fee for the Intermediate, B.A., and M.A., classes respectively; and Rs. 10 as Fee for Amalgamated Fund of games.

Library, Social Gathering and other students' activities.

11. During the summer vacation of 1935 the College has built with the labour of its students and teachers a small pavilion for sports on the plot of land. The construction of a second storey on the present building of the College was completed in 1938 and cost nearly Rs. 22,000.

12. In July, 1949, a Science Department by name the Mathuradas Mohota College of Science, has been added to the College. A separate building has been constructed on the College ground on the Umred Road from the munificent donation of rupees one lakh received from the Mathuradas Mohota Religious and Charitable Trust, Hinganghat. The Subjects provided for in the Department are Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics and English. Biology Section will be added in the near future. During 1950-51 and 1951-52, a Hostel block to accommodate 28 students, 3 Professors' quarters, one Principal's quarter and one staff quarter have also been constructed on the plot of land. The College Hostel has been shifted to the new block from July, 1951.

7. The Central College for Women, Nagpur.

[Principal.—Dr. Kumari S. Shridevi, M.A. (Madras)
M.ED. PH.D. (Columbia)].

The Central College for Women, Nagpur, is a first grade residential College affiliated to the Nagpur University. It is managed by a representative Governing Body with Shrimati A. Pakvasa as President and housed in its own building on the Ridge (Seminary Hills) Nagpur, with 26 acres of land around it, affording scope for expansion.

The institution aims at turning out young women fitted to play their role in life. It, therefore, provides instruction in subjects of feminine interest like Home Science and Music, besides the usual Arts courses. In July 1949 the National Cadet Corps for the students of this college was started by Government, and 60 to 90 students of the College form the Corps every year. This is a rare and invaluable training for young women, comprising of physical training drill, motor mechanics, wireless operating, signals and first-aid nursing.

The College caters to the needs of all communities admitting to its course students of every caste and creed, not only from the State but from outside it as well.

About half the number of students are usually resident. The Principal and most members of the staff also reside on the premises and participate fully in the various activities of the institution. The Residence runs a common mess for all, students and staff alike, and the management is shared by a body of elected student officers. The self-help system which consists in students drawing up menus, laying the table, serving at meals, etc., has worked with more vigour since the re-establishment of the Home Science Department.

The College owns three buses and one belonging to the N.C.C. which go round the city to fetch day-students and day-lecturers, and to take them back after classes.

Instruction is provided in the following University subjects:—

Intermediate Examination:

English, Logic, Economics, Civics, Home Science, Music, Hindi, Marathi, Sanskrit, Urdu and Persian.

B.A. Examination:

English, Philosophy, Economics, Political Science, Home Science, Music, Hindi, Marathi, Sanskrit, Urdu and Persian.

No admissions are made for a period of less than two academic sessions, for each of the University Examinations.

Fees:

The tuition fee for the year is Rs. 117 paid in advance, or Rs. 39 paid terminally.

The Government Engineering School, Nagpur, was established on the 14th of July, 1914. It was made a part of the College of Science, and the theoretical part of the instruction was imparted in the Victoria Technical Institute building, Maharajbagh, Nagpur. As there was no suitable space in the Victoria Technical Institute a separate plot of land covering an area of about 19 acres on the Kamptee Road, Nagpur, was acquired by the Government and a well-equipped workshop was erected for training the students in workshop practice. On this plot a double storeyed hostel to accommodate 56 students was also built.

The building was opened by Lord Chelmsford, the then Viceroy, on 23rd October, 1920.

During the first year of its career the school provided courses in Civil and Mechanical Engineering up to the diploma standard, the duration of the courses being three years' theoretical training and one year's practical training. In 1915 a motor mechanics class was added to the school. This was a workshop course of 4 years' duration, the training being practical except that the students used to get instructions in Engineering Drawing.

The school was growing rapidly and from 16 students enrolled in 1914 the number had increased in 1927 to about 160 and in 1950-51 to 350. In April, 1927, the school became an independent institution under its own Principal. It was previously a part of the Science College.

In 1929 the Motor Mechanics class was converted into the Automobile Engineering class with provision for training students for a diploma in Automobile Engineering.

Ever since the establishment of Nagpur University, proposals had, from time to time, been put forward for the affiliation of the school with the University but it was only in July, 1936, that the school was admitted to the privileges of the University up to the Diploma standard in Civil, Mechanical and Automobile Engineering. Three new Diploma Courses in Electrical Engineering, Architecture and Fine Art have been opened from the Academic Year 1947-48. The duration of the course for these Diplomas (excepting Architecture which is four years) is three years training in the school. The first year's course is common to Civil, Mechanical, Automobile and Electrical Engineering. At the end of the first year, students have to take the first examination for the Diploma in Engineering conducted by the University except in the case of Architecture which is at the end of second year. At the end of the third year, students have to sit for the final examination in the respective branches, except in Architecture which is at the end of fourth year, these examinations also being conducted by the University.

There is a small technical library attached to the school. Books are added every year. Several newspapers and Engineering periodicals are provided for the use of the staff and students.

The playing fields are in the school premises and afford best opportunities for physical exercise among the students. Cricket, foot-ball, hockey, volley ball and tennis matches are regularly played.

The school is endowed with a number of Government and other scholarships and prizes.

The Government of India opened a Technical Training Centre in this institution in the year 1940 with 30 trainees only. But very soon it developed into one of the three biggest CIVMIL Centres in India imparting training in 12 trades and turning out military technical personnel, one thousand at a time.

The additional buildings which were constructed to accommodate the CIVIL trainees were available for the expansion of the School and the Hostel after the war.

The State Government has also added 6 halls to the main building under the Post-War-Scheme.

9. Shri Dada Sahib Dhanawate National College, Nagpur.

[Principal: Dr. D. G. Londhey, M.A., PH.D. (Leipzig).]

1. The College was founded in 1935, by the Wardha Education Society, Wardha. It was originally named Wasudeo Arts College, Wardha, as the late Mr. Wasudeorao alias Babasahib Deshmukh had promised to donate Rs. 25,000 for the construction of its building. A sum of Rs. 3,000 was handed over by him to the Wardha Education Society, for initial expenditure of the College. In October, 1938, the Wardha Education Society transferred the management of the College to the Wardha College Society, registered under the Act XXI of 1860. The constitution of the Wardha College Society was framed in accordance with the College Code Ordinance and subsequently approved by the University in April, 1939. The University Enquiry Committee drew attention of the University to the fact that the College is organised on a fellowship basis and recommended to the University a further affiliation for 4 years. This was granted by the University. In July, 1941, the Fellows of the Society applied to the University to permit it to shift the College to the Dhantoli area in Nagpur from July, 1942, which permission was granted by the University. After shifting to Nagpur the College was named as the National College. Since 1st of August 1949, this College is being conducted by the Shri Shivaji Education Society, Amravati. The College is making rapid progress since this change of management. Shri Dada Sahib Dhanawate donated a sum of Rs. 60,000 to the Shri Shivaji Education Society out of which Rs. 25,000 are ear-marked for this College. The College is now named as Shri Dada Sahib Dhanawate National College, Nagpur. .

2. The College meets in a building belonging to the Tilak Smarak Dnyan Mandir Trust, originally built for the Tilak Vidyalaya and situated to the south of Dhantoli Park. It was mainly due to the helpful attitude of the Hon. Dr. N. B. Khare, Chairman of the Trust that the building could be secured on 10 years' lease.

3. The College is affiliated to the Nagpur University upto the B.A. (Pass) standard and imparts instruction in most of the Arts subjects. Facilities are given to lady students for developing corporate life.

4. The College takes out excursions and trips every year. In addition to the Annual Social Gathering some other Socials and At Homes are arranged. The Students' Union and the Vag Vilas Mandal meet at regular intervals. Lectures of prominent persons and debates are arranged in English and Marathi.

10. Sitābai Arts College, Akola.[Principal: Shri R. V. Soman, M.A.]

On the 14th of January, 1935, the Berar General Education Society was founded at Akola with the object of promoting the spread of education by establishing Schools and Colleges at suitable centres in Berar. The Society was duly registered under the Societies' Registration Act. In July, 1935, a full-fledged High School named the Modern High School, Akola, was started under the auspices of the Society. In 1937, the Society decided to start an Arts College at Akola, as it was found that many students from West Berar had every year to migrate to distant places for college education for want of accommodation in the King Edward College, Amravati, the only college in Berar. An application for admission of the proposed college to the privileges of Nagpur University was submitted in 1937; but for various reasons, the College could not be started immediately.

In January, 1938, the Society submitted a fresh application to the University and from July, 1938, the First Year Class of the Berar Arts College, was started. During the first year the College was housed on the first floor of the late Rao Bahadur Damle's bungalow. Necessary furniture and books for the college library, worth nearly Rs. 1,500, were purchased during the first year. The total number of students enrolled during the first year was 33.

To secure a spacious building, away from the din and bustle of the city proper, for the college, permanently, was a real need; and the Berar General Education Society succeeded in supplying the same by purchasing a spacious building in the Civil Lines, Akola. The building contains five class-rooms, one big hall, ten small rooms and a compound measuring about four and a half acres surrounds the building. Shri N. S. Godbole of Poona, advanced on easy terms, the money required for purchasing the said site and building.

The new building purchased for the college, was subsequently repaired and the college meets in that building from the session 1939-40.

Soon after the above building was purchased by the Society in October, 1938, Shrimati Sitabai wife of Seth Chunilal Dosalechand Jain, a philanthropic lady of Akola, donated Rs. 10,000 to the Berar General Education Society, for the college. In order to perpetuate the memory of their first patron, the Society, in November, 1938, decided to change the name of the college from Berar Arts College to Sitabai Arts College.

To provide for additional accommodation a new hall was constructed at a cost of Rs. 8,000 in July, 1943.

The college was in the first instance admitted to the privileges of the Nagpur University, for a period of two years, with effect from the 2nd July, 1938, for imparting instruction in English, Marathi, Sanskrit, Economics, Philosophy, Political Science, History and Music up to the B.A. (Pass) standard. The second and third year classes were started from July, 1939, and instruction in all the subjects referred to above was provided. The fourth year class was added from July, 1940. The University has now permanently admitted the College to the privileges of the University.

Attached to this College there is an N.C.C. detachment of the 3rd M.P. Bn., since 1949 the present strength being 45 cadets.

The detachment is under 2 Lt. K. S. Joglekar who had his pre-commission training at Sagar.

Fees:—Tuition Fee for each year is Rs. 117.

Management:—The Berar General Education Society have placed the management of the college, in the hands of 'The Governing Body' constituted under the new constitution of the Society, which has been brought into complete accord with the College Code Ordinance.

11. Govindram Seksaria College of Commerce, Wardha.

[Principal: Shri S. N. Agarwal, M.A., F.R. ECON. S, (Lond.), M.P.]

This State had long been feeling the want of a Commerce College, which could be called its own. Many students of the Madhya Pradesh had to migrate to other States in order to prosecute their College studies in Commerce. This entailed great inconvenience and the expenditure was also prohibitive.

The Marwari Education Society, Wardha, which has been serving this State for the last 35 years, keenly felt the need of a Commerce College in the State, and, therefore, moved in the matter. Mainly due to the efforts of the Society, the Nagpur University agreed to institute the Intermediate Commerce and the Bachelor of Commerce Courses. Thanks to the munificence of the late Seth Govindram Seksaria of Bombay, the Govindram Seksaria College of Commerce was inaugurated at Wardha by late Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel on the 14th July, 1940. Seth Seksaria donated Rs. 1,50,000 towards the initial fund of the College, and, consequently, the College has been named after him.

Besides imparting sound theoretical and practical training to the students in the various branches of Commerce, the College aims at developing the personality of the students by trying to build up their body, mind and character. The College authorities expect to train students not only as efficient businessmen, but also as responsible, social and national workers by providing them expert knowledge, breadth of outlook, organising capacity and force of character.

The College is situated in the Civil Lines about a mile from the Wardha town. The site is open and healthy.

The College prepares students for the I.Com., B.Com. and M.Com. Examinations of the Nagpur University in all the compulsory subjects and in the following optional subjects.

For B. Com.:—

- (1) Advanced Accounting and Auditing,
- (2) Advanced Banking,
- (3) Insurance.

M. Com.

- (1) Money Markets and Foreign Exchange.
 - (2) Co-operation.
 - (3) Labour and Urban Problems.
 - (4) Applied Statistics.
 - (5) Principles and Practice of Economic Planning.
 - (6) Industrial and Commercial Development of India,
- and (7) Rural Economic Problems.

Hindi and Marathi media of instruction have been introduced for I.Com. and B. Com. classes. This much-needed educational reform has been a great success.

The tuition fee of the College for the whole session is Rs. 125.

The College imparts sound practical training to the students of the College. All the Third Year students are sent to various business firms in this State as well as outside, during the summer vacations for practical work. It is a matter of gratification that about 60 commercial firms have promised to accommodate our students for one or two months during the summer vacations. The students keep a regular diary of their work.

With a view to imparting practical training to the students during the session, the College runs a full-fledged Bank, which transacts business in Current, Fixed Deposit and Savings Bank Accounts. It is managed by the senior students of the College under the guidance of a teacher.

Sickness Insurance Society is yet another institution started by the College to impart practical training to students in the field of insurance. The students of the College are insured against sickness during the year on payment of an annual premium of Rs. 5 per head (included in the Amalgamated Fund). It may be pointed out that the Sickness Insurance Scheme is the first of its type in India to be started in this College as an experimental measure. It is hoped that it will prove to be a useful medium of practical training in addition to its economic value to the students.

In order to broaden the outlook of the students, the College arranges special lectures of distinguished persons on general as well as technical subjects. Wardha has become a national centre of various constructive activities, and, therefore, attracts many eminent personalities not only from India, but also from foreign countries.

The College has built up a decent and up-to-date Library of books on the various branches of Commerce. Besides technical literature, general books are also purchased for the library. It is hoped that within a few years the College Library will be a nucleus of modern literature not only on the various branches of Economics and Commerce, but also on Sociology and Current affairs.

The College has instituted a Lending Library for the convenience of students. Books are lent for the whole session and the College charges only depreciation which ranges from 20 per cent. to 10 per cent. of the prices. The Lending Library has been a real boon to the students of the College, and they are taking full advantage of it.

The College has started a Village Service League with the object of imparting practical training to students in social service. Students work in the League under the guidance of a Professor appointed by the Principal. Satisfactory work is being carried on in several neighbouring villages, and it is hoped that the work of the League will not only benefit the villagers but will also enable the students to establish living contacts with the rural areas and thus make their education practical and realistic.

The College Statistical Society carries on social and economic surveys and thereby not only provides training to students in application of statistical methods to real problems but creates an interest among them to understand the various economic problems in their proper perspective.

The College Labour Corps consisting of students and staff is a very important addition. Its members undertake cultivation of land in the College Campus on co-operative basis. The proceeds of agriculture are distributed among students according to the number of hours devoted to the agricultural work by each student. Besides agriculture, some students are provided work in the Library, College Bank, Sickness Insurance Society, College Printing Press and other extra-curricular activities. These students are given monthly allowance for this work. This scheme has given financial relief to some students.

The College maintains a Commercial Museum, though yet on a small scale. While arranging the exhibits in the Museum, special attention is paid to the natural resources and products of Madhya Pradesh. The Museum is expected to be quite useful to the students so far as the gaining of practical knowledge is concerned.

In order to assist the College students in obtaining decent jobs, the College runs an Employment Bureau. The Bureau indirectly helps the businessmen as well, because they can obtain suitable types of employees through the College.

The College runs 3 Hostels, situated near the College with accommodation for about 140 students.

According to the limit of maximum admissions prescribed by the University, the present strength of the College is 450.

12. Govindram Seksaria College of Economics and Commerce, Nagpur.

[Principal: Shri M. R. Tokhi, M.A., B.COM. LL.B.]

With increasing demand for Commercial Education in the State, the City of Nagpur strongly felt the need of a separate Commerce College for itself, despite the establishment of Govindram Seksaria College of Commerce, Wardha, in 1940. The Marwari Education Society, Wardha, which gave the State the first Commerce College at Wardha, moved in the matter once more. And thanks again to the donation of Rs. 1,25,000 by Seth Govindramji Seksaria, the great business magnate and philanthropist of Bombay (the donor of Govindram Seksaria College of Commerce, Wardha), the Society could start a second College in Nagpur to impart higher education in Commerce. The College has been gratefully named after the donor and is thus the second institution of its type in the whole of Madhya Pradesh, gifted by the same donor and founded by the same society. The inauguration of the College was performed by Lt.-Col. Hon. Justice W. R. Puranik, Vice-Chancellor, Nagpur University, on the 7th July, 1945.

The College is situated on the Amravati Road in a newly constructed building. The site is open and healthy and easily accessible to the city by regular bus service.

The College was admitted to the privileges of Nagpur University up to the B.Com. standard for a period of two years, in the first instance, with effect from the 7th July, 1945. The period of admission of the College to the privileges of the University has now been extended for a further period of five years with effect from 7th July, 1947. The College prepares students for the Intermediate-in-Commerce and B. Com. examinations of the University. The media of instruction are Hindi and Marathi; the replacement of English as a medium began in 1946 and has now been completed up to the B.Com. standard by gradual stages.

Besides imparting sound Commercial training in the class room, the College makes arrangements for Practical Training to its students at the B. Com. stage by sending them to different business houses like Banks, Insurance Companies, Manufacturing concerns, Audit Firms, etc., where they work under a supervisor for two months during the Summer Vacation.

Besides the outdoor practical training, the College also provides facilities for such training in the College itself. For this purpose, the College Bank has been organised on the lines of a Joint Stock Company which provides training in Accountancy and daily routine of a Commercial Bank. The College Consumers' Society, besides catering for the needs of students in the matter of books, stationery and other materials of daily use, provides a fruitful medium of practical training in Business Methods, Accounts, organisation and correspondence. Next session, a Sickness Insurance Society will be started to provide yet another avenue for Practical Training in Statistics, which will also be helpful to students in safeguarding their health at a nominal cost. The College thus spares no pains to give as much practical bias to Commerce Education as possible.

The College is building up a good library of technical books on various branches of trade, commerce and industry as also books of general interest and on current problems. Attached to the library, is a Reading Room where, in addition to important dailies and weeklies in English, Hindi and Marathi, a number of journals and magazines, both Indian and Foreign, are provided.

Lending Library is a unique feature of this College. This institution is meant to help the poor students who cannot afford to purchase costly text books. The books are lent to the students for the session by charging a nominal rent to cover depreciation.

A Students' Union has been established to impart training in civic life and promote intellectual and corporate life among the students.

Besides imparting sound and efficient education in Commerce to the students, the College aims at developing their full personality by building their body, cultivating their mind and developing character. The authorities aspire not only to equip students as efficient businessmen destined to play their role in trade, industry and commerce of the country but also to train them as responsible citizens strongly imbued with true spirit of social service.

[Principal: Shri V. P. Mohogaonkar, M.A., LL.B.]

1. To remove a longfelt need of the students of this part of the State, who were required to migrate to distant places for Higher Education, a college named Aryan College was started at Basim in July, 1941, by Pandit Dattatraya Prasad Sharma. An application for the admission of the college to the privileges of the Nagpur University was submitted in July, 1944. The college was inspected by a University Enquiry Committee in November, 1944 and the college was admitted to the privileges of the University till March, 1946, in the meetings of the University held in February, 1945, subject to the fulfilment of certain conditions. The original founders failed to raise sufficient funds to ensure the stability and proper maintenance of the college due to diverse reasons and the responsibility of maintaining the college was transferred to a Society of local citizens in March, 1945. The Society is named Rajasthan Education Society and it has been registered under the Registration Act (XXI of 1860). The Society in its meeting held in June, 1945, decided to change the name of the College from Aryan College to Rajasthan Aryan College. The Society has raised a fund of well over Rs. 60,000 for the College and it has secured a suitable piece of land outside the town where the future College Building is being constructed.

2. During the first year the College had 60 students on its rolls and a sum of Rs. 5,000 was spent for furniture and books for the College Library. The College is housed in its own building from July, 1946. The College authorities have secured a decent building outside the town for hostel purposes and the building can accommodate about 80 students.

3. The College imparts instruction in English, Marathi, Urdu, Economics, Political Science, Philosophy, and in Hindi and Telugu Compositions. The College teaches pupils upto the B.A. (Pass) standard, upto which it is admitted to the privileges of the University.

15. Govindram Seksaria College of Science and Agriculture, Khamgaon.*

[Principal. (Acting): Shri K. M. Munshi, M.Sc.]

The ever increasing number of students seeking admission to Science Course, created an acute need of starting a new College of Science in this State. Several students of Berar, for want of adequate facilities, had to migrate to other States for higher education in Science subjects. This naturally entailed heavy expenditure and great inconvenience to the students. The opening of this College has given a great relief to the students of Berar who, for the financial inabilities of their parents or guardians, were not in a position to migrate to distant educational centres.

2. The College is being run at present by the Foundation Society registered under the name of "The Vidarbha Shikshan Prasarak Mandal" with Shri S. R. Bhate, B.A., LL.B., Advocate, Khamgaon, as the President. The Mandal founded solely for the purpose of promoting Scientific education worked patiently and steadily for years and through the munificent donation by the late Seth Govindram Seksaria of Bombay, they were able to start this College. The foundation stone of the building was laid by the Hon'ble Pandit D. P. Mishra, Minister of Local Self Government, Central Provinces and Berar, on the 30th June, 1947 and the College was also inaugurated by him.

The credit of collecting the funds and initiating the idea, goes to the unabating efforts and untiring zeal of the then working President of the Mandal, Shri

* Admitted to the privileges of the University upto the academic year, 1952-53.

S. R. Bhate, Advocate, Khamgaon and his enthusiastic colleagues.

3. The late Seth Govindram Seksaria promised a princely donation of Rupees Four Laes towards the initial funds of the College and consequently the College is named after him.

4. The State Government, also gave grant-in-aid of Rs. 2,81,917 upto the end of March, 1950 (towards purchase of equipment, Rs. 1,61,917 and 1,20,000 Ad-Hoc for Agriculture section). The Madhya Pradesh Government has also been pleased to sanction Rs. 8,939 as recurring grant to this College towards maintenance with effect from the financial year 1951-52. Government would further be prepared to sanction grant-in-aid for purchase of additional equipment and for construction of building. Seth Gopal Das Mohota, the industrial and commercial magnate of the State, donated Rupees Fifty Thousand towards the initial expenses of the College. Donations were also collected from several philanthropic persons of the State.

5. The College is situated on the top of a low hill surrounded by fields of various shades of soil and is about a mile and a half from Khamgaon town. It owns about 200 acres of land and these were acquired for the purpose with the aid and sympathy of the State Government. At present the College is housed in one wing of the main College building; the construction work of which was carried out and completed with expedition during summer vacation last year, with whatever building material was at hand. Accommodation in this wing:—

1. Chemistry laboratory	1	} Covered with concrete slab.
2. Class room	1
3. Dark room	1
4. Library	1
5. Agriculture laboratory	1

The roofs of the Physics Laboratory, Biology Laboratory and other class rooms in the wing are covered with C.I. Sheets. Five more temporary class rooms with tin-roofs have been also provided.

6. Pending construction of the permanent Hostel residential accommodation is provided for about 40 students, in a pacca building near the College.

7. The College has been admitted to the privileges of Nagpur University up to B.Sc. standard for five years from the academic year 1947-48 and upto B.Sc. (Agriculture) standard from the academic year 1948-49.

8. Instruction is provided in English, Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Mathematics and Composition in a Modern Indian Language up to the I.Se. standard. The College provides instruction upto B.Sc. standard and third and fourth year classes have been opened from June, 1950. Intermediate Science (Agriculture) class has been opened from the commencement of the session 1948-49 providing instruction in the following agriculture subjects:—

(i) Agriculture, (ii) Botany, (iii) Chemistry, (iv) Mathematics and Agricultural Engineering and (v) English. It is the only institution of its type in the whole of Madhya Pradesh imparting instruction jointly in one College, both for Agriculture and General Science.

9. The Library has a decent collection of standard books on various Science and Agriculture subjects and it is hoped that within the next few years the Library shall have up-to-date books not only of academic interest but also of popular type.

The College subscribes to various journals, both Indian and Foreign in different branches of Science and to some magazines and newspapers in English, Marathi and Hindi.

10. The College has adequate arrangements of playgrounds for Cricket, Hockey, Foot-ball, Badminton and other Indian games. It is the intention of the Foundation Society to have a Gymnasium and a swimming pool for the students.

11. The College charges Rs. 150 as tuition fees for the session.

16. Medical College, Nagpur.

The facilities for medical education in this State were inadequate till 1947, and there was only one medical school which trained students upto the L.M.P. standard.

Ever since the establishment of the University of Nagpur there was a demand for the establishment of a Medical College in this State. Accordingly, in 1943, the University appointed a Committee to explore the possibilities of the opening of a Medical College, but the scheme prepared by the Committee could not be implemented due to unavailability of construction materials, equipment and necessary staff, owing to war conditions. However, in 1946, the first step was taken in this direction and a Principal was appointed on 21st March, 1946, to start a Medical College on 1st July 1946. The original idea of converting the Robertson Medical School into a College was, however, found impracticable, and a new site with an area of 187 acres was selected for starting a new Medical College. In the meantime laboratories were fitted up in temporary huts in the Engineering School compound, for teaching Anatomy and Physiology to first year classes.

In July 1947, 110 students were admitted. Again in October 1947, the first year students (36) and the second year students (56) of the Robertson Medical School were absorbed. It necessitated re-orientation and extension of the laboratories immediately so that 56 students could work at a time in each laboratory. This task has now been completed.

The difficulty of securing the equipment within such a short time was immense. The Dissection Hall has 16 newly made marble tables on which over 100 students can dissect at a time. A motor van has been purchased to collect unclaimed dead bodies within 100 mile radius. The Histology and Embryology laboratory has been provided with new microscopes and a microprojection apparatus. The Anatomy museum taken over from the Robertson Medical School has some excellent teaching collections made by the present Professor. To these have been added skeletons from England, Paris and India; models, diagrams and sets of Embryological slides from America and India. The Bio-chemistry laboratory has an attached research Unit. A gas plant of 1000 cubic feet has been installed. The Experimental Physiology laboratory has been fitted with drums and ancillary appliances. These have been rapidly made in the workshop of St. Joseph Technical School, Nagpur, pending receipt of complete equipment from Messrs. Palmer & Co., London. The Bio-physics laboratory can take 28 students at a time. It has an attached dark-room for Epidiascopic and Endoscopic work on normal individuals. An X-ray plant has been installed to teach Radiological Anatomy and Physiology. A direct writing electric-cardiograph "Cardiotron" has been installed for teaching Electro-Physiology. There is a special laboratory for B.M.R. and gas analysis. The Mammalian Physiology Experimental room is situated next to the Experimental Physiology laboratory. An animal house has been built for housing the experimental animals.

The College lecture hall can hold 150 students at a time. This theatre is also used as an examination hall. It has been provided with an ALDIS Epidiascope and a projector machine for 16 mm. films including a sound box and microphone. The library and the women students' common rooms are located in a block 120 ft. in length and 18 feet wide. A new Micro-film Reader with all its accessories has been purchased for the use of research workers and is kept in the Library. There are 3033 books including periodicals and 56 different journals are subscribed.

There is a small workshop for minor repairs; and also an artist's studio.

The extra-academic activities of the College are controlled by the Students' Association. The Physical training is compulsory for the 1st and 2nd year men students only under the direct supervision of an Ex-Army Instructor. The students are encouraged to take part in games and sports under the supervision of a teacher of each section.

The departments of Pharmacology, Pathology, Public Health, Medical Jurisprudence are temporarily located in the existing buildings of the Roberts Medical School, Nagpur. The other departments—Surgery, Midwifery, Eye, E.N.T., Dentistry, are functioning at the Mayo Hospital. The medical unit of 250 beds, comprising the departments of Medicine, Pediatrics, Dermatology, Infectious Diseases, Radiology and Clinical Pathology has been opened on the Rajabaksha site.

There are residential quarters for the gazetted and the non-gazetted staff of the College and the Hospital near the Ajni Railway Bridge. There are three permanent hostels buildings to accommodate 120 students in each. There are two buses to transport the students from hostel to the College in Sadar and Mayo Hospital.

The permanent buildings of the College are now reaching their final stage of construction and as soon as these are ready the full-fledged College will start functioning, with its attached hospitals on Rajabaksha site as one single Unit.

The Dean, Medical College, Nagpur, is responsible for the administration of the institution under general supervision of the Director of Health Services, Madhya Pradesh.

The number of students admitted in:—

1947—Male 181, Female 21—202

1948— „ 43 „ 13—56

1949— „ 93 „ 17—110

[Principal: Shri S. D. Datey, M.A., LL.B.]

1. Yeotmal was the only district in Berar where the facilities for higher education did not exist. Every year about 600 students appear at the H.S.C. Examination of the Nagpur Board and this number is ever increasing. In these days of monetary stringency it is practically impossible for middle-class families to send their boys and girls for higher education to places like Nagpur, Amravati and Akola. The unfortunate students were, for no fault of their own, denied the facilities for higher education to better their prospects in life. Taking this into consideration the Education Society, Yeotmal, decided to start a College here though it was somewhat beyond their capacities to do so.

Accordingly, the application was made to the University in February 1950 for affiliation. The University was kind enough to grant two years affiliation to the College and if the Education Society satisfies certain conditions, the College will be continued next year. The College was named as "Yeotmal Arts College" and the provisional body was formed with H. E. Lokanayak Aney, Governor of Bihar, as the President. The College meets in the building owned by the Society.

2. The total strength of students during 1950-51 was 71 (61 in First Year and 10 in Third Year) out of which 10 were lady students, 7 in First Year and 3 in Third Year. Out of 61 male students, 29 were the employees and they met in the morning. The for Women, Amravati Camp.

[Principal: Kumari S. Raje, M.A., B.T.]

1. The Government Diploma Training Institute for Women, Amravati, was opened on the 1st of October, 1946. At its commencement it used to meet in the building of the Government Girls' High School, Amravati, in the morning shift for the theoretical part of Instruction. A rented building was hired from 19th October, 1946 where the hostel attached to the Institute was accommodated. In this very bungalow the Institute started imparting theoretical instruction from 2nd January, 1947. In July, 1947, since the number in the hostel had increased from 28 in the year 1946 to 70, accommodation was found inadequate, so the hostel was shifted temporarily to the hostel building of the Govt. Urdu Boys' High School (now known as Govt. Science Core High School), Amravati. It is still there. Theoretical part of instruction used to be imparted in the building of the Science Core High School, Amravati, in the morning till March, 1950. Now the theory classes are held in the hostel building itself as the First year class has been kept in abeyance. For Practice Teaching the pupil teachers go to the various Girls' and Boys' schools of Amravati.

2. The Institute is admitted provisionally to the privileges of the Nagpur University upto 31st March, 1951 and Diploma in Teaching Examination of 1948, 1949, 1950 and 1951 have been conducted by the Nagpur University.

3. The Institute is fully equipped with the necessary materials. What it still lacks is a building of its own and a practising School. Duration of the Diploma Training Course is of two years. In addition to the subjects prescribed by the University, the Institute provides training in Spinning and Weaving, Drawing and painting, Music and Home Science.

5. The Institute has always prided itself in the extramural activities which are in the form of Social Education, Series of extension lectures, Scouting, Hindi literary activities, Tournaments, Marathi Literary Society and the Music Society and Dramatisation. Each pupil teacher during her two years' course has taught the 3 R's to at least 2 illiterates. Kirtans, Bhajans, small dialogues and dramas depicting the importance of literacy and sanitation are held every Saturday for the benefit of these adult illiterates. These women have always shown a great interest and once they themselves had put up a show.

6. Once a fortnight Extension lectures are given by great Educationists both of and outside Amravati. Some times lively debates on current topics are also held when opportunities are given to the public to express their views. The pupil Teachers are tutored in Hindi and everyone has passed either one or the other Rastra Basha Prachar Samiti, Wardha—Examinations.

7. The Institute yearly wins a number of trophies in the Inter district and inter collegiate Badminton Tournaments and "Bhavageet" competitions.

In addition to all these activities the Institute holds its annual gatherings as Education Camp, or Education Week or Break-up-Social which is celebrated for four to five days. During these socials exhibition and sale are also held. The articles prepared by the Home Science Department invariably attract a good crowd as also the geographical and pedagogical exhibits.
